Amaizeingly Green Offers Formal Apology to Mayor and Town of Collingwood

Collingwood, Ontario, June 29, 2009 – Today, during an update to Collingwood Town Council on its odour and noise abatement measures, Amaizeingly Green Products, L.P. (AGP) - formerly Collingwood Ethanol, L.P.- offered a formal apology to Mayor Carrier and Council for its response to action taken by the Town in 2008.

“Without realizing that the Mayor and Council were acting in the community’s best interest, we perceived the action taken by the Town as an attack on the company and overreacted and took an offensive position,” said Bruce Chandler, Amaizeingly Green Products L.P. “We are genuinely sorry for any inappropriate actions we may have taken in the past and look forward to a new relationship with the Town where our commitment will be to address the concerns of the community with respect to our operations, in a proactive and transparent manner.”

AGP also provided an update on the progress of its odour and noise abatement measures.

To date, of the 28 odour abatement projects initiated under its odour abatement plan, 16 have been addressed. The implementation of the 12 remaining projects will begin shortly. Given the current state of the economic climate in Ontario, AGP has been able to secure the services of many engineering and construction firms sooner than expected and with little notice, so implementation of the remaining projects has been expedited.

With regards to noise abatement measures, AGP’s follow-up acoustic audit report will be submitted to the Ministry of the Environment (MOE) in the coming weeks and additional noise abatement equipment is on order and scheduled for installation.

“We are happy to have put our past issues behind us,” said Chandler. “We can now focus on completing the projects in our abatement plan and look forward to being in Collingwood for the long-term as we grow our company.”
